

SPEECH-LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY (M.S.)

The mission of the Department of Speech-Language Pathology is to prepare students with a broad knowledge base of human communication and its impairments, competency in clinical service delivery, and a strong foundation in the principles of evidence-based practice. Aligned with the Catholic mission of Seton Hall University and the School of Health and Medical Sciences, students will be prepared to assume servant leadership roles in a global society.

This comprehensive 65-credit, five-semester program includes academic courses, experiential learning opportunities, and clinical practica in speech-language pathology that are intended to provide students with the necessary skills to perform as entry-level practitioners and enable students to grow and adapt to the rapid changes in the profession and the health care service delivery system.

Accreditation

The Master of Science in Speech-Language Pathology program received full accreditation for an eight-year period by the Council on Academic Accreditation (CAA) of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA) effective May 1, 2022 through April 30, 2030. In order for an individual to be eligible to apply for national certification with ASHA, a student must initiate and complete coursework and clinical practicum at a CAA-accredited institution.

Admission

A baccalaureate degree from an accredited institution with a cumulative GPA of no less than 3.2 on a four-point scale is required for all applicants. Admission to the program is open to individuals who have an undergraduate degree in speech-language pathology or who have completed a minimum of 18 credits of pre-professional coursework in communication sciences and disorders with a grade of "B" or better that must include the six courses listed below. Applicants must complete an application through the Communication Sciences and Disorders Centralized Admissions Service (CSDCAS); this is located at <https://csdcas.liaisoncas.com> (<https://csdcas.liaisoncas.com/applicant-ux/#/login>). Special admissions consideration is given to students enrolled in the dual degree programs (a) Elementary and Special Education, b) Psychology) at Seton Hall University who do not participate in the CSDCAS process. Further details are available in the undergraduate catalogue.

The Department of Speech-Language Pathology offers the following undergraduate pre-professional courses:

- GMSL 5001 Phonetics
- GMSL 5003 Language Development
- GMSL 5004 Audiology
- GMSL 5005 Anat - Phys Speech Swall Mech
- GMSL 5006 Hearing and Speech Science
- GMSL 5007 Introduction to Communication Disorders

The Admissions Committee determines a candidate's eligibility upon review of all academic transcripts, Graduate Record Examination (GRE) scores within the past five years (waived for the 2023-2024 admission cycle), a personal statement of professional goals, three letters of recommendation, and 25 hours of observation of a professional holding a certificate of clinical competence (CCC) in Speech-Language Pathology.

Completion of at least one course with a grade of "C" or better in each of the following areas is required for admission:

- Statistics
- Social or Behavioral Science (Typically a course in psychology, sociology, or cultural anthropology)
- Biological Science (Typically a course in biology, general human anatomy, physiology, genetics, or zoology)
- Physical Science (physics or chemistry)

Please note that pre-professional coursework in Speech-Language Pathology cannot be used to fulfill the course requirements in the above mentioned areas (i.e., English composition, statistics, social or behavioral science, biological and physical science). Further, all prerequisite courses must be completed no more than 10 years prior to the application date.

If English is not the native language, a student must submit a Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) score report documenting a paper-based score of 550 or above, a computer-based score of 213 or above, or an Internet-based score of 79 or above. Information regarding the application process may be obtained from the Department of Speech-Language Pathology at (973) 275-2825 or e-mail shms@shu.edu.
