

BUSINESS HUMANITIES MINOR

This 18-credit minor is a collaboration between the College of Arts and Sciences and Stillman School of Business. It is a uniquely designed interdisciplinary program that draws on and integrates perspectives and approaches from the humanities and business to provide our students, regardless of major and career aspirations, the leverage skills to be ethical, effective, and successful leaders, on and off the job. Students will learn cutting-edge approaches to business ethics and theories of management that aim to protect and promote human dignity, contribute to human flourishing, and serve the common good.
