SETON HALL UNIVERSITY PARENTS AND FAMILY PROGRAM

Parents and family members are an integral part of the Seton Hall community and play an important role in enhancing the student experience. Parents and families of all admitted students are members of the Parents Program. The executive body of the association is the Parents Leadership Council, which provides a forum for discussion between the parent community and University leadership. Participating in the Parents Program is an excellent way for parents to stay connected and to support the education of their college student. Specifically, benefits of membership include a subscription to the parents' bimonthly e-newsletter What's New@SHU, service on special volunteer committees, invitations to University events, an opportunity to have greater impact through directed philanthropy, and the option to join the Parents Leadership Council. The Seton Hall Parents website (https://www.shu.edu/parents/) is a valuable source of information for parents and family members. Visit the site to learn more about the association and to subscribe to the e-newsletter.
